What's New In TMap Designer?

DESIGN & BUILD TEMAP Create custom maps and allow users to see them in minutes. Design your maps in the style you want, and they will automatically be built when you run them. You can also share your maps with others. Create maps of your GeoData. The only limitation is how many map 'layouts' you want to support. This app allows you to add as many layouts for your map as you like. You can use any of the standard layouts for maps, from that of the latest Google earth 5, along with some of the less commonly used ones which are the ones actually used in the program. EASY TO USE Create your map layout very quickly, by dragging and dropping standard map elements onto the map. This makes creating your custom maps very easy. Automatically build your map, and immediately run it. So to create a map, just make sure that your geodata is in the right place, and the map will be instantly built for you. You can immediately switch from building the current map to creating the next one. Let your friends and family see what your maps look like, and what you've built. The only limit to what you can do with this app, is how many layouts you want to support. TMap Designer developer TMap Designer changelog TMap Designer 1.0.2.0 Added ability to run maps concurrently, so that multiple TMapDesigner instances can run simultaneously. Added "Copy to..." context menu entries for layouts Fixed a crash with "Open from..." when an error occurred. Fixed a problem with the context menu on the GIS map editor tool.
